

Goal:

The aim of the practice is for students to be able to translate an entity relationship model into a relational model definition.

Correction criteria

- Total score: 100.

Only the model definition will be taken into account in order to compute the score. If an explanation is included and an error is found, it will be taken into account.

Write the relational model definition for the following relational entity diagram:

